Thank you.

Your donation helps us put local people back to work and achieve zero waste. When you donate, good grows.™

Donation receipt. No goods or services were received in return for donations listed on this receipt.

When you donate, good grows.

Your donation to Goodwill puts people back to work in your community. Our job placement and training services help the chronically unemployed move from receiving public assistance to earning a paycheck.

Next time, start online.

You can fill out a donation tax form at sfgoodwill.org. Once you've registered, Goodwill will maintain a record of your donations, making it easier to compile your information at tax time.

Oh no! I donated something by mistake!

Please contact us at sfgoodwill.org/donations immediately, and we will attempt to retrieve the item(s) based on your description. Given the volume of donations handled by Goodwill, we are sorry that we are not always able to guarantee the return of items donated in error, nor are we able to compensate you for the loss of any such items. Thanks for your understanding.

Want to help more?

Every dollar of your financial contributions goes directly toward supporting the job training and placement mission of Goodwill. Learn more at <http://sfgoodwill.org>

Tax Deduction Information

You are responsible for determining the value of your donation. Federal law requires that donated items be in good used condition or better to receive a tax deduction. As a rule of thumb, the value of your donation is equal to the price Goodwill is able to sell that item in our stores.

Per IRS regulations, donors of items valued at $500 or more should file form 8283 with their federal tax return. If your donation is valued at more than $5,000, you must submit an appraisal and two completed copies of IRS Form 8283 to Goodwill and the IRS.

This form does not constitute professional tax advice; please contact a tax advisor for assistance. For more information, please visit the IRS website at www.irs.gov.

Thank you!
